DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
2. Claims 1 through 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
3. The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors.
4. The following prior art rejections are based on the best possible interpretation of the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1 through 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being fully anticipated by Sakai et al., 6343249.
7. Sakai et al. disclose a platform program on lines 50-59, on column 7, an application program on lines 64-67, on column 6; a coupling processing program that converts data from a format used by the platform program to the format used by the application program on lines 44-48, on column 7; adjusting the sampling timing and provision timing on lines 41-46, on column 8; a memory for the coupling processing program for storing the data on lines 15-20, on column 7; and using interrupts on lines 33-35, on column 8.
